Step-by-Step Instructions for ePAFs:
• Entering New Affiliates (AFNEW)	6-9
• Renewing Current Affiliates (AFREN)	9
• Terminating Affiliates (AFTERM)	10

Introduction

Affiliates are individuals who are associated with Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) but who are not paid University employees. Proper identification of affiliates and maintenance of their information helps to provide a safe and secure campus environment for all employees, students, patients, and visitors, as well as access to certain privileges such as VCUCards and email.

This document details step-by-step instructions on how to complete three separate ePAFs related to affiliates: AFNEW - how to enter new affiliates into Banner, AFREN - how to renew a current affiliate's information, and AFTERM - how to terminate affiliates.

To ensure data accuracy in Banner, a Social Security Number (SSN) is strongly encouraged to avoid duplicate records. If the affiliate does not wish to provide a SSN, enter nine digits of all eights in the SSN field. For example, enter 888888888. An automated process will then create a temporary SSN for the individual.

Responsibility

Data input and maintenance is decentralized to the "owning" department (the department responsible for the individual's affiliation with VCU).

It is the responsibility of a department's Personnel Administrator (PA) to enter and maintain affiliate information and to terminate affiliations in a timely manner.

Access

Access to enter, renew, and terminate affiliates is limited to those with PA access in Banner. See hr.vcu.edu/learning-and-development/banner.html for instructions on how to obtain Banner access.

Reports

The report "Affiliates in Banner" is available in the Personnel Administrator folder in the VCU Reporting Center at my.vcu.edu.

*Affiliate Library Privileges (RET, AFPR, EMER, EXAF, INOV, PDAF, VAMC, VCCS): Affiliate faculty and staff receive full library privileges, including borrowing, and off-campus access to databases and journals for scholarly, teaching, patient care and research purposes at VCU. Use of remote databases for commercial purposes is prohibited and could result in the loss of database access for the entire university.

Limited Library Privileges for Affiliate Other (AFOT): Affiliates in this category do not receive off-campus access to library databases. Their relationship with VCU is such that use of these databases is not for educational, teaching, patient care or research purposes at the university. Affiliates in this category can receive other library privileges, such as borrowing, if there is an agreement in place with VCU Libraries. Borrowing privileges require an email address in the Affiliate Database record.

People Search on VCU Directory

When completing the ePAF for AFNEW, you will have the option to publish your affiliates in VCU's online directory, People Search. For affiliates you choose to publish in People Search, the only information that will appear is the affiliate's name, associated department and email address.

Note: Information on all affiliates who were loaded into Banner from MSS was loaded with the default of not publishing their information in People Search.

In the AFLOAD and AFNEW ePAFs:

- If the "Unlisted Telephone" field is checked "Y" for yes, the affiliate's information (name and associated department) will not be published in the People Search.
- If the "Unlisted Telephone" field is checked "N" for no, the affiliate's information (name and associated department) will be published in the People Search.

Affiliates with Access to Banner or other VCU systems

Any affiliate who will have access to Banner or other VCU systems must sign a Confidentiality Statement. The department granting affiliate access is responsible for collecting and maintaining these forms, which can be printed from the HR web site:

<http://www.hr.vcu.edu/media/hr/documents/ConfidentialityStatement.pdf>
